

Polyfab is More Than Shade Sails, it's the People Protection Solution

Polyfab goes beyond being 'just' shade sails. This reliable textile's real purpose is all about protecting people.

This remarkable shade cloth is the shield that principals use in their school grounds to shelter students from the sun, it is the cover homeowners trust to protect their car in the driveway from the elements and their families in the backyard from the heat, and it is the choice for architects when protection is needed for large commercial meeting areas.

Whenever something of importance needs protection, the Polyfab range of shade sails can be relied upon to deliver the solution.

To acknowledge the great work of all the Polyfab shade sail installers and fabricators we are running the #polyfabprotection campaign.
